

She should not have been terminated.

On Thanksgiving Day, a Delta Flight Attendant took out her iPhone to send her love to her young daughter.

Meanwhile, a co-worker decided to take a photo of her and send it to the base FSM.

The next day our co-worker, a single mom, was fired for something that thousands of us do at work every single day.

This is wrong. This is why we need a union.

With an IAM Contract, there are three reasons this would not happen the way it did. There must be: 1) Due Process; 2) Neutral Judgement and 3) Equal Treatment.

These three components of an IAM contract guarantee fairness.

When the world's best Flight Attendants have rights, that makes Delta a Better Air Line.
