

Well-intended (but not quite enough)

Forming a union of Delta Flight Attendants will guarantee we have a Voice in determining our professional future.

The Employee Involvement Group (EIG)—even with well-intentioned Delta Flight Attendants participating—can't legally negotiate on our behalf.

Delta Corporate decides all the rules.

When we form a legally recognized union with the IAM, Delta Corporate will be required under federal law to negotiate in "good faith" with us.

And that's the difference that will make Delta a better airline for everyone.
