

DON'T YOU LOVE A LITTLE COINCIDENCE

Delta corporate dramatically raises prescription drug costs for Delta Flight Attendants in 2015.

Then Delta corporate discovers the IAM Delta Campaign—far from being a few random discontents—represents 60 percent of all Delta Flight Attendants.

Then, in a lovely coincidence, Delta corporate decides to create another option for 2015. They claim it's an improvement but it can be changed at any time for any reason and does nothing to guarantee that our future costs are controlled.

While they're in a "giving" mood, why don't they raise our hourly base wage rate to what we truly deserve, at least 10 percent above the $64.73 that Southwest Flight Attendants currently earn—to over $70 per hour?

How about they also increase our 147 max PPT hours, so we don't receive a pay cut if we are seriously ill or injured?

How about we really lower our industry-high health insurance costs by significantly decreasing our premiums, deductibles and co-insurance maximums. Then, we can save thousands of dollars each year, like IAM members do? We deserve no less.
